

Legal Team Takes to the Streets for Charity...

Howlett Clarke Solicitors fielded a team of fit and active ladies for the Martlets Midnight Walk this year, and raised a fantastic £1,250 for the charity!

The Martlets Midnight walk is a gruelling 13 miles around the streets of Brighton & Hove, starting at midnight and taking in the racecourse, Withdean stadium, out past the King Alfred and finally along the seafront and back up to the racecourse.

“Having entered the event and walked the course last year we knew what to expect for the distance but walking up Freshfield Road at the end was still a challenge” said Nicki Tidey of Howlett Clarke. “But we were really pleased with the amount of sponsorship we raised, and it was a great personal achievement. The Martlets is a really deserving cause and we were thrilled to have raised so much for them.”

“We were delighted to receive such an impressive amount from Howlett Clarke and so pleased they chose the Martlets to donate to,” said Gemma Blass of the Martlets fundraising team. “Given the figures pledged by walkers on the evening, we are on track to meet our budgeted figure of £120,000. The Howlett Clarke total represents a good 1% of the whole amount pledged, which is fantastic!”
